

I recommend Tomas Chotkevic for schooling or a job. During his practical IT work experience at Eu Parliament, Tomas demonstrated outstanding technical aptitude and problem-solving abilities. In particular, he excelled in practical tasks such as CMS setup, troubleshooting database and design assignments.

Tomas Chotkevic quickly adapted to the fast-paced and ever-changing environment of IT sector. He was able to apply the theories and concepts learned in the classroom to resolve real-world issues efficiently, often going above and beyond to ensure systems were running smoothly. He worked on helping to upgrade our internal database systems, where his attention to detail and ability to troubleshoot problems in real-time were key to the success of the project.

What sets Tomas apart is his hands-on approach to problem-solving. For example, when we encountered a technical challenge, Tomas took the initiative to research and implement a solution that significantly improved our workflow. His ability to learn quickly and apply that knowledge to complex situations was impressive.

In addition to his technical skills, he displayed excellent communication skills. Whether they were documenting processes, explaining issues to non-technical staff, or collaborating with team members.

I am confident that Tomas will continue to develop his skills and be a great employee to any organisation. Tomas was a dependable and proactive member of the team, and I believe that he will continue to grow.
